

Workshop: Collaborative work of the impact of ICCAT fisheries on sea-turtles from the Mediterranean and adjacent waters

6-10 October 2025, IPMA-Olhão, Portugal

IPMA-Olhão (Instituto Português do Mar e da Atmosfera = Portuguese Institute for the Ocean and Atmosphere) is located in the village of Olhão, 10km from the city of Faro and 300km south from Lisboa, the Portuguese capital city.

Faro has an International Airport with direct flights to many European Capitals (airport code: FAO)

You can travel from Faro Airport to Olhão by taxi (around 20-25€). Or you can take a bus (Próximo) to the Faro city center and then a train or bus to Olhão. Electronic platform car services (e.g., Uber and others) are also available locally.

The meeting will be held at the IPMA building (photo above) located on the corner of Avenida 5 de Outubro with Rua da Conserveira (coords: 37°01'27.5"N 7°50'15.6"W or 37.0243, -7.8377).

In Olhão there are a few hotels and many hostels within walking distance of IPMA.
